Committees Named For Art Exhibit

Many parents of students and friends of St. Albans School are busy these days working on committees to prepare for an American art exhibit which will be held in the gymnasium of the National Cathedral School for Boys starting with a private showing on May 20 and running until June 3.

Part of the school's 50th anniversary observance, the exhibit will cover more than 100 years of American art. Arrangements have been made with a number of major galleries, museums and private collectors for loans of paintings.

Assisting in the selection of artists are Mrs. H. Gates Lloyd, a member of the Women's Committee of the Corcoran Gallery of Art and a director of the Philadelphia Museum of Art, and Dean Stambaugh, art director of St. Albans.

Mr. E. Barrett Prettyman, jr., chairman of the exhibit and a member of the board of governors, has named the following chairmen and co-chairmen:

Invitations and hospitality, Mrs. Waldron Faulkner and Mrs. Kenneth P. Landon; invitations subcommittee, Mrs. Gerhard A. Gesell and Mrs. R. A. Winnacker; hospitality subcommittee, Mrs. Ganson Purcell; printing invitations subcommittee, Mrs. E. Barrett Prettyman, jr., and publicity, Mrs. Philip L. Graham.

Others are: Exhibition committee for Mark Tobey paintings, Mrs. Gloria Finn and Mrs. George Wheeler; lighting, screens and hanging, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richman; guest speakers, Mrs. Frank G. Kear; printed programs, David A. Dickson; insurance, Huntington Block; guards, George H. Goodrich. The transportation, crating and uncrating of pictures is being arranged by Mr. E. K. Morris.
